The antenna, more than 30 meters high, it was installed at dawn despite the fact that the company did not have official authorization. The Municipality of Miraflores he proceeded to impose a fine of more than 8 thousand soles.

After an administrative and coercive process, which lasted two months, the Municipality of Miraflores he dismantled a radio transmission antenna and cell phone that had been installed irregularly at the intersection of Roca and Bologna and Ricardo Palma streets, in front of the Tradiciones Park in that district.

The antenna, more than 30 meters high, was installed at dawn to the surprise of neighbors and authorities by the operating company Coar North SAC for large scale cellular retransmission. However, after an investigation, the inspection inspectors confirmed that the company in question proceeded without official authorization from the Municipality of Lima nor the consent of the neighbors.

"Illegal and arbitrary installation provoked protests from neighbors who were mocked by a company that ignored their complaints. That company violated basic principles and not only installed a huge radio transmission antenna but also put breakers and milestones on the streets without anyone's authorization, said Hugo Zevallos, a coercive agent of the company Municipality of Miraflores.

Finally, after three hours of work, the crane and the operators dismantled the antenna, on which they had placed plastic branches on top, simulating the top of a tree, and which had also been covered with concrete and iron rods.
